Sumitomo Mitsui Banking Corporation

Opening of SMBCCN Dalian Branch

Tokyo, April 1, 2016--- Sumitomo Mitsui Banking Corporation (“SMBC”, President and CEO: Takeshi Kunibe) announced today that its wholly-owned subsidiary, Sumitomo Mitsui Banking Corporation (China) Limited (“SMBCCN”, President: Toshiyuki Tatsuta), has opened a branch in Dalian City, Liaoning Province, the People’s Republic of China. The opening of Dalian Branch is part of SMBCCN’s efforts to further strengthen its office network in mainland China.

Dalian is located in Northeast China and the region is expected to enjoy continued economic growth under the Chinese government’s efforts to stimulate its economy. As the doorstep to Northeast China, Dalian has been achieving remarkable economic development and growth under the Chinese government’s market-opening reform policy, and many companies from all over the world, including Japan, have established operations in the city.

East Asia is one of SMBC’s most important overseas markets, and it is implementing various initiatives to strengthen the services and products available to clients in the region. The establishment of Dalian Branch will expand SMBCCN’s network of offices in mainland China to ten branches (including Shanghai Head Office) and six sub-branches. SMBC and SMBCCN will leverage this expanded network to better serve new and existing clients.
